

OPEN MEDICAL INSTITUTE

SALZBURG INSTITUT PASTEUR OMI SEMINAR “Pandemics”

Tuesday 22 August – Saturday 26 August 2017

Schloss Arenberg, Salzburg, Austria

Course Director: Arnaud Fontanet, MD, DrPH

SPEAKERS AND TOPICS:

Arnaud Fontanet, MD, DrPH

*Director, Center for Global Health, Emerging Diseases Epidemiology Unit, Institut Pasteur;
Professor in Public Health, Chaire Santé et Développement, Conservatoire National des Arts et
Métiers, Ecole Pasteur-Cnam de Santé Publique;
North Coordinator of the ANRS Research Site on Viral Hepatitis in Egypt
Paris, France*

- Emerging Diseases: Lessons from History
- Key Epidemiological Indicators and Routes of Transmission
- Case Study: Pediatric Acute Encephalitis-like Syndrome Outbreaks in Northern Vietnam
- Hepatitis C: Emergence and Overview of Modes of Transmission
- Case Study: Investigation of Acute Hepatitis C in Fever Hospitals in Egypt
- Case Study: Zika in French Polynesia and the Caribbean

Rebecca Grant, MSc

*Research Officer, Center for Global Health, Institut Pasteur;
Project Assistant, Outbreak Investigation Task Force, Institut Pasteur
Paris, France*

- Case Study: Pediatric Acute Encephalitis-like Syndrome Outbreaks in Northern Vietnam

Roy M. Gulick, MD

*Professor of Medicine and Chief, Division of Infectious Diseases, Weill Cornell Medicine;
Attending Physician, NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital
New York, USA*

- HIV/ AIDS

Stephan Harbarth, MD, MS

*Associate Professor, Division of Infectious Diseases, Geneva University Hospitals
Geneva, Switzerland*

- Antimicrobial Resistance and Control of Nosocomial Outbreaks of Multiresistant Bacteria
- Case Study: ICU-acquired infection

Maria D. Van Kerkhove, PhD

*MERS-CoV Technical Lead, High Threat Pathogens, Global Infectious Hazards Management, Health Emergencies Program, World Health Organization
Geneva, Switzerland*

- Steps in Outbreak Investigation
- MERS-CoV and Nosocomial Transmission
- Case Study: Nosocomial Outbreak of MERS